DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's preliminary amendment filed on August 2, 2004 has been entered. Claims 1, 2, 7 and 11 have been amended. No claim has been cancelled, or added. Claims 1-20 are still pending in this application, with claims 1, 7, 11, 12, 16 and 17 being independent.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
- I. Claims 1-10 and 16, drawn to illumination device with current controlling means, classified in class 315, subclass 291.
 - II. Claim 11, drawn to illumination device having a metal housing not part of the circuit, classified in class 362, subclass 204.
 - III. Claims 12-15, drawn to illumination device with sealed switch operator, classified in class 362, subclass 158.
 - IV. Claims 17-20, drawn to illumination device with plurality of lenses, classified in class 362, subclass 268.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

3. Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as providing an illumination device with means for adjusting the intensity of the emitted light. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has separate utility such as providing an illumination device having a switch structure capable of withstanding water, dirt, or other contaminants that might affect the operation of the switch. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Inventions III and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as providing an illumination device having means for adjusting the emitted illumination pattern. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and the search required for any one Group is not required for any of the other remaining Groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
